

It is my opinion that the regulations regarding broadcast ownership should not be loosened. We already see the major media players in monopoly-like positions and by lessening the ownership regulations, the information the majority of the public receives will be the product of only a select few gatekeepers. Maintain multiple choices for the public and maintain freedom of the press.